

Heather L. Bartlett, MD
Professor of Pediatrics and Medicine
University of Wisconsin-Madison

Dr. Heather Bartlett is a pediatric and adult congenital cardiologist at the University of Wisconsin. She directs the Adult Congenital Heart Disease Program and associated fellowship training program, and is the medical director of Pediatric Cardiology. Her research interests center on outcomes of congenital heart disease.