

Narong Simakajornboon, MD, FCCP, FAASM
Professor and Director, Sleep Center
Director, Sleep Medicine Fellowship Training Program
Cincinnati Children's Hospital Medical Center

Dr. Simakajornboon is a Professor of Pediatrics at Cincinnati Children's Hospital Medical Center (CCHMC) in Cincinnati, Ohio. He is the director of the Sleep Center and Sleep Medicine Fellowship Training Program at CCHMC and the University of Cincinnati. He earned medical degree from the Faculty of Medicine, Siriraj Hospital, Mahidol University in Thailand in 1992 before coming to the United State. He completed pediatric residency at Children's hospital of Michigan, followed by pediatric pulmonary and sleep medicine fellowship at Tulane University School of Medicine in New Orleans, Louisiana. He is a member of the American Academy of Sleep Medicine, the American Thoracic Society, the American College of Chest Physician, the Sleep Research Society, and the Society for pediatric Research. He has been a sleep medicine program director over the period of 20 years and has trained many sleep medicine fellows and international fellows. He has conducted research in advancing pediatric sleep medicine in the area of sleep related movements disorder, infant apnea and developmental neurobiology of respiratory control and pediatric narcolepsy. He has published numerous peer-reviewed articles, abstracts and book chapters in the field of sleep medicine. He currently serves as an associate editor of the Journal of Clinical Sleep Medicine, Frontier of Neurology and Psychiatry (sleep section) and Frontier of Sleep Medicine and is on editorial board of several journals. He is on the board of directors of the International Pediatric Sleep Association.