

Henry Stacy Nicholson, MD, MPH President, Atrium Health Levine Children's Clinical Professor and Charlotte Chair Department of Pediatrics Wake Forest School of Medicine

H. Stacy Nicholson, MD, MPH, holds the Sara H. and Howard C. Bissell Endowed Chair at Atrium Health Levine Children's Hospital (LCH) in Charlotte, NC. He is Clinical Professor and Charlotte Chair of Pediatrics at the Wake Forest School of Medicine (WFSOM). Immediately prior to joining Atrium, Nicholson was Physician-in-Chief at Phoenix Children's Hospital, and he held several leadership positions at Oregon Health & Science University (OHSU), including Division Chief of Pediatric Hematology/ Oncology (2002-2007) and Chair of Pediatrics (2005-2015). He is a pediatric hematologist/ oncologist with expertise in cancer survivorship, neurooncology, and early phase cancer clinical trials. Nicholson is a graduate of Furman University and earned his medical degree from the Medical College of Georgia and a Master of Public Health Degree from the George Washington University. He trained in Pediatrics and Pediatric Hematology/Oncology at Children's National Hospital in Washington, DC, and in Cancer Epidemiology at the National Cancer Institute. After training, he remained at Children's National where he established the Cancer Survivorship Program, was Clinical Director of Pediatric Neuro-Oncology, and led clinical trials and epidemiologic studies in cancer survivorship. At OHSU, he founded the Pediatric Neuro-Oncology Program and was instrumental in bringing pediatric phase I oncology trials to Doernbecher Children's Hospital. Nicholson has been a volunteer at the American Board of Pediatrics (ABP) since 2010. He served as a member of the ABP's Pediatric Hematology/Oncology Subboard, which he chaired in 2014-2015, and he was a member of the ABP Board of Directors from 2015-2022, which he chaired in 2021. In his current position at Atrium Health, he is leading the integration of children's services across four children's hospitals in the Southeast.