

R. Thomas Collins II, MD, MS, FAAP, FACC

Professor of Pediatrics

University of Kentucky College of Medicine

Dr. Collins is a Professor of Pediatrics and Vice Chair of Faculty and Academic Affairs at the University of Kentucky College of Medicine. He completed his medical training at the University of Tennessee and specialized in Pediatric Cardiology at the Children's Hospital of Philadelphia. An international authority in cardiovascular abnormalities of Williams syndrome, as well as an expert in cardiovascular genetics and adult congenital heart disease, his research spans basic to clinical studies. In addition to his medical research, Dr. Collins studies leadership, including interviews with 51 Four-Star Generals and Admirals, which inspired his forthcoming book The Four Stars of Leadership. He also hosts The Science of Leadership podcast, discussing vital leadership lessons and their scientific foundations.