

Elisabeth Potts Dellon, MD, MPH

Professor of Pediatrics

University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill

Elisabeth Potts Dellon, MD, MPH, is a Professor of Pediatrics at the University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill, Associate Vice Chair for Faculty Development for the Department of Pediatrics, and director of the UNC Children's Supportive Care Team. She practices pediatric pulmonology and pediatric palliative care. Her primary research interest is in palliative care in cystic fibrosis. She has led guidelines development in palliative care as co-director of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation Palliative Care Initiative.