

Kris P. Rehm, MD, MMHC, SFHM

Professor, Pediatrics

Associate Chief Medical Officer Children's Services, Vanderbilt Medical Group

Vice Chair, Outreach Medicine

Vanderbilt University Medical Center

Monroe Carell Jr Children's Hospital

Kris Rehm, MD, MMHC, SFHM, is the Associate Chief Medical Officer of Children's Services and the Vice Chair of Outreach in the Department of Pediatrics at the Monroe Carell Jr. Children's Hospital at Vanderbilt. Dr. Rehm graduated summa cum laude from Ohio University with a bachelor's in science and her MD from the Feinberg School of Medicine at Northwestern University. She completed residency and a chief residency at the Boston Combined Pediatrics residency in 2002, and she has lived and practiced in Nashville, Tennessee since. Her roles at VUMC include expanding services for children, and she oversees more than 60 clinicians and partners with local hospitals across Tennessee. In addition, she was the founding leader and director of Pediatric Hospital Medicine and served in this role from 2008-2018. In service to her professional societies, including the Society of Hospital Medicine, SHM, Dr. Rehm has served as Chair of the Pediatrics Committee, planning chair of the Pediatric Hospital Medicine meeting in 2017, Leadership Facilitator, and board member since 2017. She was president of this society from 2023-2024. She was elected to the APS in 2025. In her free time, Dr. Rehm enjoys spending time with her husband, Christopher and their 4 sons.